

2022-2023 Tuition Assistance

Needs Based Assistance

Families may qualify for needs-based assistance by submitting an online application and supporting documentation to a third-party company who evaluates the application and recommends a tuition assistance award for qualified families. All needs-based assistance requests must follow this process to ensure a consistent and equitable distribution of funds to qualified families.

Multi-student assistance program – New for 2022-2023

Families with more than one student attending Archbishop Hannan High School qualify for the multi-student tuition assistance program. Tuition may be reduced up to 10% for siblings attending Hannan. For example, a family with two children attending Hannan would be charged full tuition for the oldest child and tuition for the younger student is reduced by 10% (fees may not be reduced).

Families may qualify for this program without submitting financial documentation but must opt in to the program through the financial aid section of <https://tuitionportal.fbtonline.com>

Note: If a family would like to be considered for needs-based assistance in addition to the multi-student assistance, the family will need to complete the full financial aid application (documentation and fee requirements will apply).
